OUR HISTORY

Amsterdamse Atletiek Club Rugby has been Amsterdam's leading rugby club for 90 years. Through this time we have produced many international players across men's, women's and youth rugby, and even two Barbarians!

- Since our founding in 1930, we've helped to establish and grow the sport of rugby in the Netherlands, winning 11 national titles along the way.
- In 1946, following the end of the Second World War, we held our first tour to Liverpool, and have visited and hosted teams from across the continent ever since.
- Since 1972, we have organised and hosted the Netherlands' first international rugby tournament - the Amsterdam Sevens.

OUR PRESENT

Today, the club is a diverse international community consisting of 500 enthusiastic members across three men's, two ladies' teams, and a thriving youth section. Throughout the season, thousands more visit the club to play, watch and celebrate rugby. The club has enjoyed plenty of recent success, but has big ambitions for the coming seasons.

YOUTH

Our youth section continues to develop young talent, with 6 members representing the Netherlands last season.

WOMEN

The women have been the dominant force in Netherlands ladies' rugby in recent times, and are the current national champions. Next, they have their sights set on the international BeNeCup competition.

MEN

Our men's team are at the start of an exciting new project, with a new-look coaching team and a number of new recruits from across the globe, as they push for promotion back to the Ereklasse where they've historically belonged.
